

Dream Inspiration

Everyone has their own ideas of what their "dream home" would be. Many want to start from scratch and build on new property but there are many reasons to remodel your existing home's interior. We call these homes "Better than New"! What dreams have you had about making your existing home the one you've always imaged. Have you always wanted a bigger kitchen, a media center or a drop-zone when you enter the door after a hard days work. Maybe your dream home has a craft room, a masterful master suite or a home spa. Let your imagination take over.

Now take your ideas and have some fun! Working with a talented design and build team can be exhilarating. Having a Master Planner and a Certified Kitchen Designer help you design your homes interior and work with you through the selection process is exciting. Watching your new interior come to life with hand drawn, three-dimensional color renderings is a once in a lifetime experience. Celebrate your success in life by showcasing your home's interior quality and beauty.

Home owners are clamoring to improve the quality of life within their existing homes. Here's a variety of factors that have inspired people to re-design the interior space and architecturally remodel their home.

- Your home is a place of beauty and quality. Keeping the interior current is a good investment.
- Every family needs a place for family and friends to gather. You'll be proud to have guests visit you in your home.
- Comfort and functionality can relieve stress and encourage a better quality of life.
- Great designs create new space for doing the things most important to you.
- You love the neighborhood, have good neighbors and don't want to move.
- Homes and products wear out. New appliances, lighting and flooring can be more cost efficient. Add new cabinets and countertops and you're home is better than new.

- Financially, your home is one of your best investments. To create the most value in your real estate, remodeling your home often generates 80%-100% ROI.
- Better storage and increased accessibility is something you can have now, that perhaps you didn't think of or need when you first moved in.
- New colors always create more style and keeping current with color trends and coordinating your overall home interior design is an important aspect of interior design and remodeling.

You've been thinking about it. Today is the day to come and visit our showroom in Madison or Delafield to talk with one of our designers about how you can get your interior remodeling project started.